ARMISTICE and PEACE

Will Roosevelt Permit Britain to Make Peace with Hitler by September ?

"You Shall Know the Truth, and the Truth Shall Make You Free"

War is the greatest enemy of man, it is hell ! The warmongers are the tools of Satan.

All human progress was achieved by bringing out the best there is in men, not the worst.

"If you had not entered the World War we would have made peace with Germany early in 1917. Had we made peace then there would have been no collapse in Russia followed by Communism, no break-down in Italy followed by fascism, and Germany would not have signed the Versailles Treaty, which has enthroned nazi-ism in Germany", said Winston Churchill in an interview to William Griffin, editor of the NEW YORK ENQUIRER, in August 1936. Churchill also added that millions of British, French and American soldiers would not have lost their lives through the "mistake" of America entering the World War.

Rudolph Hess in Scotland

Rudolph Hess went to Scotland with the knowledge and consent of Hitler. He is Hitler's peace emissary against the Nazi party racketeers.

To understand what is going on we must survey conditions in Germany, as well as in this country. The Nazi party horses have supplanted the Jewish exploiters. They were the ones who produced and executed the Jew riots in Germany, not the people. Those riots appeared upon command, lasted as long as they served a purpose and just as promptly disappeared. The purpose was to produce hysteria during which the Nazi party racketeers transfered ownership of Jewish stocks and properties, as well as any other stocks and properties which the racketeers coveted, to the hands of Nazi agents. This has happened in every country conquered by Hitler. The Nazi party leaders own not only Germany, but all valuables in every conquered and "penetrated" country. They supplant the Rothschilds and in extortion and misuse by far surpass them .

Nazis Afraid of German Army Soldiers

The Nazi party, while nominally headed by Hitler, Goering and Hess, in fact is running itself as independently as any AFL local labor racket union in its own bailiwick. William Green, for example is powerless to control the excess of the various labor kings who control this or that international trade union, socalled, that is affiliated with the AFL. If he tried to control them he would be ousted, not they. The same situation exists in China. There has never been "democracy" there. The various provincial war lords have terrorized and looted the territory where they operated for centuries. Even the Japanese invasion has not actually united them. They still operate as of old with nominal "co-operation" among themselves.

Hitler could no more clean up Germany of the corrupt Nazi control in industry and the courts, than Green can clean up his criminals who head the many racket unions. The only way Germany can be cleaned up is with a sudden cessation of hostilites. And that the Nazi racketeers fear most. Then the five million soldiers who have been trained to act, not blindly as in the olden days, but to use their own initiative and resourcefulness to execute a given objective, those five million individuals who fear nothing, would return and find the Nazi racketeers in possession of everything they fought for. These returning soldiers would make mince meat of the Gestapo and the Nazi party crooks. Therefore PEACE is the thing the party racketeers dread most.

Hitler Works through Hess

Hitler's objective has at all times been a self-contained, independent Germany, an equal to every other world power. If he can have that he is satisfied. If it is contested, then he proposes to fight and establish supremacy over his enemies. Since the U. S. A. had entered the war in 1917 as Germany's enemy, he prepared for an eventual conflict even with the U. S. A.

But Hitler and Hess are practical men. They prefer a bird in hand to two in the bush. If they can avoid fighting the U. S. A. and concentrate their dominion upon the territory acquired, they are willing to call it a day. Of course, then, the soldiers would return from the front and Germany would face a period of inner rebirth. Would those soldiers submit to the Gestapo? Would they demand an accounting? Would they insist upon equality with Nazi party members? A parallel situation in the U. S. A. would arise if after a conquest of half the world, the returning soldiers were to be confronted by a closed shop condition in every line of endeavor and were to be told that they could not even join the union. What would happen to the closed shop unions and their goon squads, the Gestapo?

And so Hitler was forced to use an expedient. His best friend and trusted party member who does not share the greedy, looting propensities of the other party racketeers, but to whom Nazidom is an ideal for the welfare of all Germans, had to play "crazy" and skip into Scotland to take Hitler's peace proposals to those politicians who, like Churchill realize that it would be another grave mistake for the U. S. A. to enter the war again as a shooting ally.

To Prevent Chaos In the World

Hitler proposes to take over the Mosul oil wells and all of Mesopotamia. That country was once the granary, the garden of Eden. German ingenuity can produce the Eden once more and feed a large part of Europe. With Mosul oil and Mesopotamian grain and the economic dominion over Europe, Germany becomes a self-contained domain as the 48 states are in the U. S. A. With one custom union established, Germany, Italy and France would form the basis of a federated Europe with the other countries added to it. After a while democracy would naturally evolve with a prosperity established which never existed in Europe before because of the tariff wars and provincial jealousies of small principalities.

England has always been a trickster who falls back upon brute force where trickery miscarried. Therefore the English war lords have nothing but the most profound respect for Hitler and they are his eager pupils. They are happy to join hands with him to divide and rule the rest of the world. Through Hess, Hitler is offering them the following:

After German conquest of Mosul, Bagdad and Basrah, England can take its choice. Either peace or an invasion of India by Russia and Germany combined.

Iran and Afghanistan would join Turkey in permitting free transit of military convoys. And while Russia would march into India, which it has waited all these years to do, Germany would start the invasion of the British Isles.

It's a gamble, but Germany will have to take it, unless PEACE is declared by September.

And suppose the U. S. A. joins the conflict and prolongs the war another five to ten years. Suppose Hitler is defeated, what would England gain? It would become an appendix to the U. S. A. because the Rothschilds and the rest of the Jewish world bankers are becoming "Americans". With the German armies disbanded, Russia would take over the German territory now controlled by Hitler's armies and every country in Europe. Communism would be enthroned and might threaten England right at home.

And so the English statesmen have to make their choice. If the Rothschild-Morgenthau crowd prevails then "America" will join the war to defend the Rothschild supremacy in the world markets and Churchill will tell a postwar world about the second mistake which produced Communism where Fascism and Nazism rules today and produced a world hatred of "Americans" everywhere in the world.

On the other hand, America will have to pay the price for having fostered, encouraged and financed the present war by buying gold and silver at fancy prices and pushing Poland into the offensive with France and Britain.

Hitler is offering Churchill an alliance for the disposition of world markets to compete against the U. S. A. The Duesseldorf agreement will be revived. And one thing the English have learned. Hitler keeps his promises to hit hard while Roosevelt is letting the British do their own shooting. Being a trickster and a brute, Britania trusts her own kind better than it could trust an American republic where 85% refuse to deliver and make Rosevelt's promises good when he acted through Bullitt and pushed Poland into the war and pushed Yugo-Slavia openly into self-destruction.

de Aryan Compels Singing of Star Spangled Banner

America First Rally in Lincoln School

Last Friday night over 500 citizens gathered in the auditorium of the Lincoln School to discuss the foreign policy of the administration. A message was sent in the form of a resolution to the President and the Congress, expressing the view point of the San Diego chapter of the America First Committee, urging them to stay out of the war and not use the navy for convoying of munitions to England.

Pat. D. Smith, secretary of the committee, acted as chairman in the absence of Col. George Fisher, president, who had been called into active service. Albert E. Furlow, executive secretary, urged the audience to bring in more members. He set the present membership at 700 in San Diego.

Richard F. Carlyle, president of the Church of America, was introduced as the main speaker. He kept the audience roaring with laughter when they did not applaud his other statements which excoriated the administration's traitorous conduct of public affairs. He announced that he belonged to the American Copperhead Society. He named the various members of the administration, calling attention that they were defectives, even Hull was not normal, being stone deaf while the rest of them were screwy, including Wendell Willkie. "Why do we not read in the papers that with all the bombing planes on both sides in this war, their munition factories have been bombed and destroyed? Because it is not cricket to destroy munition factories, then the war stops."

Carlyle charged the administration of our public affairs to be in the hands of criminals. (Long applause) He predicted the end of the war by August. Carlyle came from Los Angeles.

Smith urged writing of letters to the President and to members of both houses of congress, stating that all of them have acknowledged that the mass of protests prevented our active participation in the war, so far. Smith announced closing of the meeting with the singing of "God Bless America" and asked the audience to stand. Carlyle protested. He sat down on the platform and was followed by others on the platform and in the audience. When the song was finished, C. Leon de Aryan asked Smith not to dismiss the meeting till a "Christian Song" was sung, namely the Star Spangled Banner, since the American anthem was the proper song for the closing ceremonies of 'America First'. Smith ignored de Aryan's request and dismissed the meeting.

The editor of THE BROOM, then, addressed himself to the audience, requested them to stand and asked the musicians to intone the Star Spangled Banner, which they did. Those who had been seated during the previous song rose to their feet and even Smith joined in the singing.

Editor's Note: The secret report of 1919 to His Majesty's government, appearing serially on page Six of this issue states:

"We are replacing with the song 'America' the scurrilous 'Star Spangled Banner', which, after expurgating we socially ostracized. 'America', which has the same air as 'God Save The King', is usually played and not sung; so in effect, we are conferring on this colony the Imperial Anthem."

REP. EDELSTEIN ANSWERS SUMMONS AFTER DEFENDING WARMONGERS

WASHINGTON,—Rep. M. Michael Edelstein, New York Democrat, died in the arms of a friend a few moments after he had dramatically defended the Jewish people in a speech in the house.

The 53-year-old New Yorker had just replied to remarks by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) criticizing "international Jewish" bankers and was talking with Jacob Wasserman of New York in the corridor outside the house chamber when he collapsed and died of a heart attack.

SOMEWHAT of a bold comment has been made on President Roosevelt's recent speech by Rep. Vito Mercanonio, American Labor party congressman from the 20th district of New York. His comment was that "the president sought by means of a fireside speech proclamation to take the issue of war and peace away from the congress of the United States and the American people."—Daily Times-Advocate.

Ha-ha-ha, Roosevelt Blames Chaos on Contempt of Law

"Ha, ha, ha ! . . . . I committed enough illegal acts as assistant Secretary of the Navy to send me to the penitentiary for 999 years . . . , but we declared war and that made it right . . . "

* * * *

NEW YORK,— President Roosevelt said the failure of men and nations to observe the maxim, "Obedience to law is liberty", accounts for the "tragedy and chaos which today threaten all that we love."

The president made his observation in a letter to Chester W. Cuthell president of the Columbia university law school class of 1907, of which Roosevelt was a member. He expressed his thanks to his former classmates for a portrait of him which they presented to the university.

A Message to the Christian People of the Americas

Ye have long prayed:—"Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done".

Ye have been advised what MUST TRANSPIRE before your prayers may be answered. The CHARACTER of that ANSWER will largely depend upon YOURSELVES .

There IS a JUST and COMPASSIONATE GOD. Ye address Him as "The Father in Heaven". HE, alone, is qualified to judge and requite the acts of men and nations. Through HIM, all is transmuted into GOOD. There is but one whom ye should seek to "judge"; That is;—"THYSELF".

The present is a TIME OF HARVEST. The nations of Europe must now HARVEST AS THEY HAVE SOWN. Come out from among them. Entering, ye will become begrimmed with their dust, burned with their fires, and left with visions more obscurred.

Your HATE will only add fuel to the fire. They ALL need your LOVE. Even those whom ye would now call your "enemies".

Pluck the motes out of your own eyes. Clean your own "back-yards". Cast the money-changers out of your temples. Then may you carry on the Higher Purposes.

Ye cannot direct the HAND of Destiny. Ye may, however, succeed in SQUANDERING your own NATIONAL INHERITANCE.

Respectfully Transmitted,
E. TAPPAN TANNATT,

U. S. Fears Hit by Sen. Wheeler

PITTSBURGH,—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, opposing this nation's entry into the European conflict, said that even if the Naxis won the war "we need not fear a triumph of totalitarian or collective economy over our system of free enterprise".

"Those economic cowards, those defeatists, who tell us that free American labor cannot compete with slave labor, who tell us that free American industry cannot compete with Hitler controlled or government owned industry, who tell us that American business men cannot compete with Nazi businessmen, do not know the American worker, manufacturer, trader or business man," the Montana Democrat declared in an address prepared for delivery to an America First committee rally.

Wheeler described a military invasion of this country as a "myth or a bug-a-boo" and asserted that if this country became involved in the war we "would emerge from the world struggle a ravaged nation, disheartened, disillusioned and bitter".

Wheeler said he believed "President Roosevelt —though he has led us to the brink of war—is mightily and stubbornly resisting war mongers who would push us into the cauldron of hate and blood. He repudiated his secretary of navy, his secretary of war and he refused to follow Sen. Guffey and Sen. Pepper, who were urging convoys—and I believe he will repudiate the war mongers."

Religious War Objectors in Slave Camps

ST. LOUIS,—The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America voted to ask the government to provide normal support, such as food and clothing, for conscientious objectors in work camps.

Rev. William Barrow Pugh, the stated clerk, reported the government was making no financial allowances for conscientious opponents of military service, but each was required to provide $35 a month for his own support.

A resolution also authorized the general offices of the church in Philadelphia to accept voluntary contributions for maintenance of such persons.

California Slave Camp Opened For Draft Objectors

GLENDORA, Calif.,—California's first camp for conscientious objectors was opened in the San Dimas forest. Fifteen men arrived from over the state. Later they will be joined by about 75 others. They will repair roads and trails and aid in forestry experimental work.

They receive no pay for their forced labor in violation of the 13th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution. Legally they are considered criminals because they profess Christianity and they must pay $35 a month for their board.

Conscientious Objectors Start Work for U. S.—And Pay for Jobs

GLENDORA, Calif.,—Twenty-six young men determined "not to give evil for evil" arose at dawn and put their soft muscles to work on forestry projects.

They're conscientious objectors—so strongly opposed to war that they're willing to pay $35 a month each and work in a camp similar to a CCC unit rather than be conscripted into the army. They won't bear arms—but they're within hearing distance of the big guns at Camp Haan.

Camp San Dimas, government authorized, is in pine-studded Tanbark flats in Big Dalton canyon, 12 miles above Glendora. An American flag flies over the camp, once San Dimas Experimental Forestry station.

The 26 young men and others who may join them will do "work of national importance under civilian direction" as provided in the selective service act. Fire prevention, forestry conservation and scientific studies are scheduled, under direction of the forestry service.

The American friends (Quakers) service committee has accepted responsibility of Camp San Dimas and three similar projects in other sections. Dr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Newman, from the faculty of Swarthmore, Pa., are in charge.

"The stand of the conscientious objectors springs from the New Testament admonitions that one must return god for evil, turn the other check," said Dr. Newman.

"We have enemies here, too," said one of the young men, who arrived later. "They are pestilence, disease and drought. We will fight mightly against them and strive to be as much service to our country as any men in the armed forces."

The objectors arise early, work several hours a day, have recreation periods and retire early. They provide their own clothing. They have brief devotionals daily, but are not required to attend. They may be of any religious belief, or none.

First Objectors Arrive at Colorado Camp

COLORADO SPRINGS,—Civilian Public Service Camp 5, one of seven for conscientious objectors throughout the country, received its first contingent of draft-age men who hold scruples against military service when 32 arrived from Kansas.

The men will spend a week or more preparing the old Templeton Gap CCC camp for about 100 others expected by June 23. The objectors' camp is sponsored by the Mennonite service committee. Albert Gaeddert, of Moundridge, Kan., is director.

Conscientious objectors will come from Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma and will spend a year in soil conservation work.

Paul French, executive secretary of the national service board, which has charge of the program, is here to inspect the camp.

Paul A. Richie Introduces Resolution Against Armed Convoys

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

Very soon I shall have a hearing on the enclosed resolution. The members of the committee are:

Sam Heisinger, chairman; Sam Collins; Gerald Kepple; John B. Knight; Fred Weybret; Jack Tenney; George Collins;

I have no assurance that the committee will act favorably. If it does not, I shall move on the floor of the Assembly to withdraw the resolution from the committee despite committee action.

I wish this had been earlier but at least it is now timely after the bombastic address by the warrior from Hyde Park, indicating that he wants to police the world with a microphone.

Sincerely, PAUL A. RICHIE.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 56—Relative to nonintervention of the United States in the present European war.

WHEREAS, The policies of the Federal Government, and especially of the President, have brought the Nation closer and closer to war with Germany; and

WHEREAS, The first World War should have taught America the folly of armed intervention in Europe; and

WHEREAS, America gained no advantage, conferred no benefits, and averted no danger by participating in the first World War, but on the contrary suffered the loss of American lives, American wealth, and the moral injury that always accompanies unjustifiable warfare; and

WHEREAS, The unseating of the Kaiser and the imposition of the Treaty of Versailles served only to raise up Hitler and to sow the seeds of a new and greater conflict; and

WHEREAS, If America should enter the present war on Britain's side & against Germany, we should have no assurance that a peace treaty would bring any better results than did the Treaty of Versailles and we should have no assurance even of British victory or German defeat; and

WHEREAS, In event of American entry into the war, the action of Russia and other presently nonbelligerent nations would be uncertain, and American participation might spread the fires of war to nations now at peace, with the final and uncertain outcome delayed through years of conflict, and in terms of world politics and social and economic results the end being highly unpredictable; and

WHEREAS, It is evident that war destroys no ideologies, whether good or bad, and seldom settles any moral issue; and

WHEREAS, If there be any truth in the statement that America may be in danger of some future attack from Germany, then it would seem the part of wisdom to conserve and direct our energies and resources toward the building of National defenses, rather than dissipating our energies prematurely; and

WHEREAS, The maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine and the building of confidence in the United States among the other American republics can not be well served by American aggression in Europe; and

WHEREAS, The same reasons, found in modern warfare, that would make the present defeat of Germany in the Old World so extremely difficult, would make the defeat of America at home all but impossible; and

WHEREAS, No matter how hateful the present German Government and its ideology may seem, the fact remains that Germany has committed no act of aggression toward the United States; and

WHEREAS, American participation in the present European war, as in any war other than one clearly of defense, would be likely to destroy American democracy and give the American Government the same totalitarian character that we despise in the German Government; now therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly, That the Legislature of the State of California hereby petitions the Federal Government, and in particular the President, that the Government of the Nation take no steps that would lead us closer to war; and especially that no armed convoys be permitted to assist in the delivery of any war materials to any of the belligerent nations; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly to the President and the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each member of Congress from California.

Curb Proposed on Burocracy

SACRAMENTO,— To prevent state government from becoming a series of bureaucratic regulations, the Assembly has adopted a bill which would require state departments, commissions and other agencies to submit proposed orders to the attorney general for approval.

Sponsored by more than 20 assemblymen, the measure is designed to make certain that departmental regulations are "within the scope of authority conferred by the legislature."

If the bill is enacted into law, the attorney general will be charged with examining existing rules and orders within 90 days and only those which he approves as properly authorized will remain in effect. The proposed act would require commissions, board and bureaus to report future regulations to the legislature.

Orders relating to tax collections, agriculture, relief and aid have been responsible for the majority of complaints brought before the legislature. Departmental rules dealing solely with administrative matters and regulations to meet emergencies would not be subject to the act.

Southern California assemblymen who are sponsoring the measure include Nelson S. Dilworth of Hemet, Charles W. Stream of Chula Vista and Clyde A. Watson of Orange.

Hore-Belisha Urges Common Citizenship for U. S., Britain

EDINBURGH, Scotland,—Raising the curtain on forthcoming parliamentary debate on the British defeat in Crete, former War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha in a speech here accused the government of dosing the public with "the narcotic of false confidence in the future".

Hore-Belisha at the same time proposed a common citizenship for the British empire and the United States as "the most hopeful assurance of the determination of the democracies to establish a new order", and he suggested an "allied council" to direct the industrial efforts of the United States and Britain similar to the military council in the World war.

Greece Denied Soviet Support

MOSCOW,—The Soviet government withdrew its diplomatic recognition of Greece.

A communique by the foreign commissariat advised the Greek legation that Russia no longer considers diplomatic relations valid in view of the "loss of Greek sovereignity" and the fact that Russia no longer has diplomatic representatives in Greece.

The action coincided with the departure from Moscow of Milan Gabrilovic, Jugoslav minister, and members of his staff.

Russia withdrew recognition of Jugoslavia in similar manner after German occupation of that Balkan nation.

Russia has also withdrawn recognition of German-occupied Belgium and Norway.

British Act to Quell 'Indian Freedom Move'

NEW YORK,—The Berlin radio broadcast a report that the largest and most widespread "Indian freedom movement" had been outlawed by British authorities and all its leaders arrested.

The report, quoting dispatches from Kabul, Afghanistan, did not identify either the movement or the leaders. It said the British acted after rioting throughout India and because it had been learned that June 6 had been proclaimed as the day for a "national Indian freedom uprising".

Tokyo Supplies Nazi

TOKYO,—Japan is supplying Germany with 1500 tons of essential foodstuffs and commodities every day, informed sources declared, and efforts are being made to increase this traffic despite a recent 500 percent advance in freight rates to Berlin on Soviet Russia's trans-Siberian railway.

The shipments from Japan, Manchoukuo and the Japanese-occupied sections of China have been going out steadily for several months, these sources said, as Germany has sought to minimize effects of the British sea blockade by trading through her axis partner in the Far East.

LIFE OF A COMMENTATOR

(Over KGB — Wednesday 7:15 P. M., June 4, 1941)

ANNOUNCER—On the program tonight appear Mrs. Genevive de Aryan, Mr. C. Leon de Aryan and their younger son, Fred. The scene is laid in the de Aryan residence. Here is Fred himself.

FRED—Mother—who is this woman? Why is she doing your housework?

MOTHER—(whispering) Hush, Fred, not so loud.

FRED—(Whisper) Who is she?

MOTHER—Let's go in your room and I'll tell you. She heard us sing the other night over the radio: "I shall never more foresake thee, I shall lead thee by thy hand"—and so she took daddy at his word. On Thursday morning she called up and told me that she had been put off the WPA, that she had no money and could your father find her some employment. She said she always listens to his radio broadcasts and that is why she is asking whether he could find some work for her to do.

FRED—But mother, why is she doing your work? Can we afford it?

MOTHER—Under the circumstances we cannot afford NOT to help her. So I told her that she could come over here and help me with my work today. Your father drove up to the end of the car line on University Avenue and brot her here. He gave me some money to pay her, so she will have enough until she finds other work.

FRED—How is dad going to find work for her?

MOTHER—He says he'll use his radio program. She is a good worker and very willing. While she is no longer young, with a little patience and showing her what to do, she earns her money. I am paying her 50c an hour. Anybody who wants to help her get some work, may call me up at Randolph 2874, Randolph 2874, and I'll give them her address.

FRED—Her comes daddy now. I had better go open the garage door.

Fatal Automobile Accidents

ANNOUNCER—And here is another interesting incident in the life of a commentator and newspaper reporter. I shall let Mr. de Aryan speak for himself—Mr. de Aryan:

DAD—As a rule, I keep away from murder trials or any trial connected with death. But the other day I had some business to attend to and so I walked into the superior court of Judge Gordon Thompson. He was trying the case of a quarry worker who had driven his car on El Cajon Blvd. while under the influence of liquor. In that condition he collided with another car and killed Mrs. June Burns. Now the man was being tried on a charge of involuntary homicide. Judge Thompson called a recess and Mr. Clarence Chandonia stepped up to me and informed me that Mrs. Burns was his daughter. I had been in the home of the Chandonias a number of times and upon request of the father I decided to remain in court a while and listen to the proceedings. It always makes me shudder to hear how people will take other people's lives in their hands and make such a mess of things After I got the gist of what had happened I left the courtroom. All such ocurrences make me be more careful when I am driving my car and I always pray that I may never be involved in hurting anybody. Somehow this prayer has had good results so far. I have had some close shaves, but succeeded to avoid collisions at the last second.

FRED—What could people do to reduce accidents, daddy?

DED—First, each driver must watch himself and realize he drives a death dealing machine. Second, he should enforce the traffic laws himself if he witnessed gross violations that might result in fatal accidents.

FRED—What do you mean? Should drivers report violations to the police?

DAD—I'll show you what I mean. Now I do not propose to be a meddlesome busybody and an informer on minor traffic infractions which happen everyday. Almost everybody breaks some technical traffic regulations daily. That is not what I mean. But here is a case. The day following my attendance in court on the Burns case, I was driving in Mission Hills on Sutter street, following another car. At the corner, going west on Sutter where Kite street takes off to the south, is a bad situation. The turn into Kite is much too close. Since so many workers from the Consolidated Aircraft are now using Kite and Sutter streets to drive home in the evening, that tight corner has become a traffic menace. The intersection should be widened in every direction. Following the car in front of me, all at once the driver cut the button completely, driving on the wrong side of the street, while making the turn into Kite, and he was going fast , too. I was horrified. What a chance to take!! The corner is so tight that a car coming in the opposite direction would have had no warning whatsoever. A head-on collision would have killed someone. I took a look at his license and it carried the letter T, which means it was a San Diego car. The fellow should have known better and perhaps was driving that route several times a week. All at once I remembered the Burns case. That's the way these things happen.

FRED—What did you do about it?

DAD—I started to chase after him and if he was going to deny it, or be sassy about it, I was going to arrest him.

FRED—How can you arrest him? You are not a traffic cop?

DAD—Any citizen can arrest an offender for breaking the law in his presence.

FRED—But what if he refused to be arrested?

DAD—I am not worried about that. I'd stay with him till I got help to take him to jail. I'd rather have them in jail before they kill somebody, than after, if they won't learn how to drive.

FRED—So what did you do?

DAD—I pushed the throttle to the floor and started to sound my horn as if I had the right of way and took after that fellow. I caught up with him, drove along side and motioned him to pull up to the curb, which he did. I parked my car ahead of him, stepped out and on the way took out pencil and pad, just like a policeman would in such a case.

FRED—Did you have your badge with you?

DAD—You mean the one from the sheriff's office, as press reporter? No, I left it pinned on my other coat at home. But that does not bother me. I don't pretend to be a sheriff's deputy. I act under authority of the penal code as a private citizen.

FRED—What did the man say when you walked up to him with pencil and pad in your hand?

DAD—He was sitting there with a lady beside him and acted exactly as he would if a police officer had stopped him. He did not know who I was.

FRED—What did you say to him?

DAD—I asked him: "Mr. Why did you cut that button driving into Kite? If another car had been coming your way in those close quarters, there would have ben a head-on collision, as sure as you live and you might have killed somebody".

FRED—And what did he say?

DAD—He said: "Did I cut that button? I did not intend to. I am sorry. Were you driving right behind me?" — "Yes, Mr. I was right behind you and got gooseflesh all over me when I saw you drive into Kite on the wrong side of the street. Don't you know the view is obstructed both ways? You cannot see what is coming and the other fellow could not have seen you in time to protect himself."

FRED—And, then, what did you do?

DAD—When he said he was sorry and promised to be more careful in the future, of course, that took the edge off me. So we discussed the whole situation like reasonable people. I stuck pad and pencil back into my pocket and got into my car.

Not All City Employees Get 8% Raise

ANNOUNCER—Whenever a commentator reports a news item over the air, immediately a flood of protests descends upon him if he made even the slightest mistake. Mr. de Aryan will present an example. Mr. de Aryan.

DAD—The other day I anounced that all city hall employees will get an 8% salary raise.

MOTHER—Is that not true?

DAD—It's true, but only on paper, not in fact. Several employees buttonholed me and asked me to state the correct facts.

MOTHER—What are the facts?

DAD—Many clerical employees were re-classified and placed a notch lower down on the list. That lowered their base pay considerably. Then the city manager and the civil service commission gave them an 8% increase on this lower pay. The result is that most of them have received about 50 cents pay increase a month while other classes of employees receive from $10 to $25 a month increase.

* * * *

FRED—Are we going to sing tonight?

MOTHER—Yes, Freddy, we are going to sing another number from THE AVESTA IN SONG, published by Dr. O. Z. Hanish. It's called PERFECT WE MUST BE.

FRED—Do you think people like our songs?

DAD—In such a large audience as we have, there are always some people who do not like what we do. But whatever you do in public, be sure you know why you are doing it and that it is right for you to do it, then take the praise and the brickbats as they come but be sure to keep your eyes on your goal. You will get there.

ORGANIST—Prelude.

Mother, Daddy, Fred,—Solos and chorus.

FRED—The Woodpecker's Song on harmonica.

May 19th, Mutual Network

My dear Mr. de Aryan:

Your splendid co-operation in the past and your great interest in progressive legislation now facing our nation prompts me to again ask you the favor of publishing the following announcement:

"It is my pleasure to announce that Mrs. Etta M. Russell, speaker and author, member of the executive Committee of the Constitutional Money League of America, will take part in the round table talk in Clevland, Ohio, on May 19th, at 8:00 P. M., Eastern Standard time over the Mutual Network on the subject "Can Managed Money Prevent Inflation"?

Yours truly,
CHARLES G. BINDERUP,

The "Assassination Party"

New Orleans, La., May 26, 1941.
819 N. Lopez St.

Dear Mr de Aryan:—

I enclose one dollar, this makes $3.00 on a 2 year subscription, I'll send $2.00 before time is out, I always pay, slow but sure and I do want you to know that I enjoy your news. Its timely, to the point and a refreshing relief from so much propaganda.

I enclose a Poem since you are a God-fearing man, He alone is our Friend, I read the 23rd Psalm, until I know it by heart: "He, The Lord is our Shepherd". I hope your little paper will grow into a mighty tome, equal to its greatness. We need small independents in every large city, I wish there could be a string of "Brooms" from Coast to Coast, so little is told on radio and in controlled press.

We did not hear Mrs. Lundeen on N. O. La. I was so disapointed, her husband was a genuine patriot, he was the typically American type as was our beloved Senator Huey Pierce Long, who builded this dear old State from mud to a new Louisiana. He died for us, and it is impossible to ignore the works of Huey P. Long, for wherever one turns, there is the beauty of his magic. The world has read volumns about the Long party but what they should know is something of the "assasination party", the most vicious, political machine in the annals of world politics. It was a miniature of what is happening in Washington, D. C., and Huey P. Long smashed forever that murderous, thieving, death-dealing political machine. Only 1 elected official went wrong, Gov. Leche, he went New Deal, he and his friends plundered the State for 2 million, but no Long had anything to do with it. Huey's cabinet and one third were re-elected but we are Hitlerized good and proper, 2|3 of the clique whom Huey ousted are back and the new Gov. Jones out 6 million, first yr. plus '8 million he found when entering. Plenty cooking going on. La will soon be news again.

Best wishes, B. PAQUET.

A NEW SONG OF FREEDOM

"O say does that Star-spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?"

Or does it wave over the land of the knave?
Does the banner wave over the home of the slave—
Slave to the whim of the intolerant few,
The war-monger, the money-mad, the provacateur,
Who seek to swell their pouch and their power,
With the blood and the sweat and the tears of the flower
Of the land that once pointed with pride
To its wealth in resources of soul, body and mind?
Only a knave will see it despoiled
By traitors, with foreign agents embroiled
Who shout, "You are strong, but you cannot withstand
A violent attack on your impotent land.
We know none is threatened, but you're easily scared.
So give us your all—guns, ships and men!
We are your vanguard, on us depend—
Fools, idiots, madmen—then in the end
Prostrate you'll lie, a pawn in our hand!"

Rise, patriot, rise, before it's too late!
Stem the tide of fear, resignation and hate.
With pride in our strength and with resolute will,
Let's strive for the right, and not rest until
We've fought down the traitors who drive us to war;
Fought down the criminals whose wealth is our blood;
Taught to ALL nations, wherever they be—
We're the home of the brave and the land of the free!

—Vera Flory—Caldwell, Idaho.

By Charles H. Ingersoll
(Of Dollar Watch Fame)

We are in a World War, AND we are in a Communistic Revolution. The world war comes to us directly from the last war—the war breeding Versailles Treaty—jammed through over Wilson's head by French and English 'diplomats'.

Ingersoll

Indircetly, this war has the same economic causes as the last one, and which all wars have:—(1) tariff walls; (2) monopoly of natural resources by the 'have nations'; and vital needs of the 'have nots'; (3) poverty in every nation, millions of unemployed, glad to be taken care of in CCC, WPA, and conscription — cheap 'cannon fodder'.

The Communistic revolution comes to us mainly because, by reason of the economic illiteracy of our cheap political leadership, we do not recognize Unionism as Communism, nor do we sincerely outlaw the latter.

So, in the same grand gesture we depart, imprison, prosecute and persecute labelled (party) Communists and uphold in every branch of our government, and finally, by U. S. Supreme Court decision, the central principle of Marxian Communism, which is Unionism, and denial of property rights.

The 'Class War' is the Communistic phrase denoting the unalterable enmity of employee and employer, labor against capital and the proletariat against the possessor of wealth. The Union is the prescribed method of conducting this war. There can be no denial of the identity of these isms; nothing but an acknowledgement of dumbness in not recognizing that identity.

The whirlwind we are reaping is a reform whirlwind—of liberals and progressives, culminating in the New Deal. This picture of a communistic revolution, going on merrily within a 'world war economy', is a most ugly one, which not many seem to recognize or trouble themselves about. And as we examine its detail, we can trace its development. A clear cut example is a paper coming to the top from my extensive files: a form letter from the American Association for Labor Legislation of 30 years ago, reporting an attack on it for its I. W. W. activities, by a local 'guild' in Brooklyn. Among its officers were President Wilson, and literally dozens of prominent people in all walks of life, especially the intelligentsia.

Unionism is not the American way of getting a square deal for labor, which America does insist on. Strike, sit-down, thuggery, and racketeering are not our style. But there's a large disposition to tolerate the wrong way, as there is not enough intelligence in our leaders to find and pursue the right way. And when this wrong way is backed by our educators and politicians, it gets into the form of a cult, and takes on what looks like popularity. Our democracy is only a half portion because it is based on an unsound system of taxation that breeds basic monopoly. Instead of correcting this system, and thereby making democracy economically as well as politically sound, we tolerate red revolution and mix up in world wars, all of which harmonizes with a 100 billion dollar bureaucracy, which may soon be a 100 per cent Communism.

Jewish Terrorists Use 'Brass Knuckles' on Italians

KHARTOUM, Angle-Egyptian Sudan,—Vengeful Jewish shock troops gathered from the Middle East and from central Europe where their people have suffered under Nazi anti-Semitism are helping to clean out the last Italian centers of resistance in Ethiopia with the help of Arabs and American tommy-guns.

Arabs compose 40 percent of their unit, the rest being Jews from Egypt, Circassia, Armenia and middle Europe—a motely group of men especially selected for their tough fiber and speed of movement to spread terror along the enemy lines of communication.

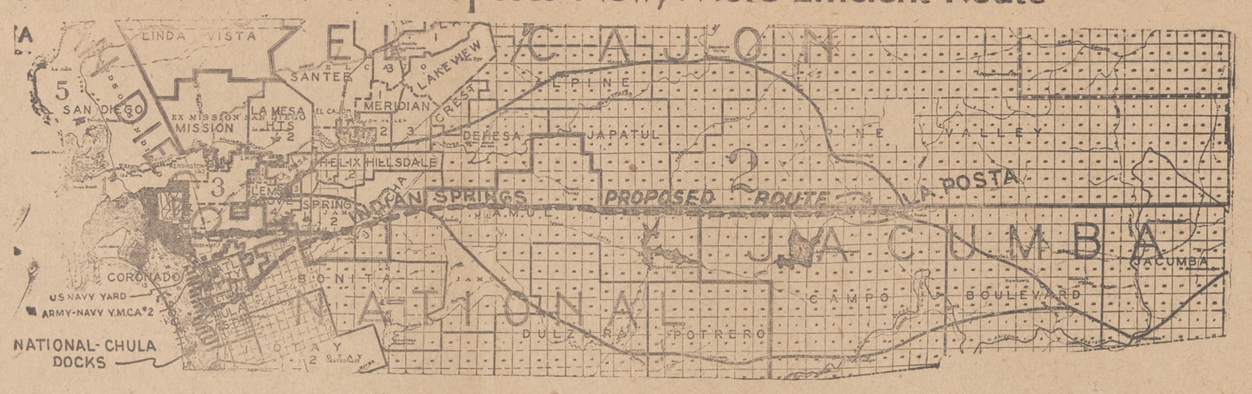
For arms, besides the U. S.-made machine guns, they carry a vicious hand weapon combining the brass knuckles of old-time street and alley fighting and a steel dagger.

The hand weapons, nicknamed "Fanny", is said to have been an invention of the Spanish civil war.

One officer was a professor in Cairo. The medical officer is a Czech doctor who escaped from a Prague concentration camp.

The members talk in no fewer than 30 languages. The coalition of Jews and Arabs has been commemorated on a hill near Amba Alaji, where together they carried out a brilliant assault as a preliminary to the action which resulted in the surrender of the Duke of Aosta, Italian viceroy of Ethiopia.

Retired Naval Aviator Proposes New, More Efficient Route



A new road for San Diego's back country is again being urged by R. L. Parsons, a retired navy man, now a rancher at Jamul. Several years ago Parsons sugested this new route and considerable interest in it was aroused at the time.

This route would shorten the distance between San Diego and the Imperial Valley by some twenty-five miles and would make an ideal trucking highway as at no place on the route would the grade exceed 4 percent, according to Parsons who has devoted considerable time and energy in tracing the shorter and better connecting link between the two counties.

"This proposed cut off leaving highway 94 at Indian Springs, thence 25 miles due east to Laposta on Highway 80, thence via a tunnel thru to Imperial Valley, is 2000 feet less in altitude than the present scenic routes It would have a graduated grade of no more than four per cent, no expensive bridges, no expensive cuts or fills, no excessive banked or reverse curves and no blind curves," according to Parsons.

"This route would take care of all heavy trucking, leaving our present beautiful scenic routes for pleasure and the tourist. This route being some 25 miles shorter and over a much lighter grade would enable the greater part of the tonage from the Valley to reach tidewater at considerable less expense and at a great saving in time over any other route. With this highway constructed the bulk of the foodstuffs which are now trucked into Los Angeles would come into San Diego for shipment by water.

"The proposed route would also make an ideal military highway in case of necessity and would be of inestimable value to the Federal Government and the War Department in time of stress."

Mr. Parsons hopes for the approval of this project by all organizations that may wish to further the progress of our port, now nearly depleted of commercial shipping. Parsons states that all he asks is fair and reasonable consideration of this proposed route by Federal, State, County and City authorities and concludes by saying that if any one can suggest a better or more feasible route he will be happy to co-operate.

HAROLD ICKES, OIL DICTATOR

By Independent Petroleum & Consumers Assn.

LOS ANGELES,—The naming of Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes as Czar of the American oil industry is a "political grab" according to the statement issued here by J. A. Smith, President of the Independent Petroleum & Consumers Association.

Smith, the leader of the successful fight against the Atkinson Bill which would have meant state control, said that the latest statements by Naval authorities show the U. S. has an ample supply of petroleum reserves. Taking over the petroleum industry under the guise of national defense, he claimed, is pure camouflage.

Reviewing the part played by independent oil producers and the consumers' alarm over the prospects of political control, Smith said:

"Wholly unsubstantiated either by the alleged national emergency or the present condition of the oil industry, the appointment of Secretary Ickes as oil Czar nevertheless was not unexpected. Despite his protestations to the contrary, we have felt for many months he was attempting to build up a smoke scren of fear that would end with his appointment as dictator of the country's great ten billion dollar industry.

"Less than two years ago our organization led the fight against state control and the issue went down to defeat by a near 700,000 majority. At that time a study of the industry revealed oil reserves were ample to take care of any national emergency; prices for petroleum products, though slightly higher than they are today, were found to be reasonable and employment at good wages was being provided for thousands of Californians. It is hoped that Mr. Ickes will not tamper with California by respecting the declaration of the California voters.

"The latest expert testimony on the subject of defense was given late in March of this year by Rear Admiral H. A. Stuart, director of naval petroleum reserves, when he appeared before the Cole Committee in its petroleum investigations. Congressman Cole asked:

"Admiral, since your last appearance before the Committee we have decided on a two-ocean Navy for this country, one in the Pacific and one in the Atlantic. Most of the Naval reserves are found on the Pacific Coast where we had the pleasure of visiting some of them with you. In case of war and the Panama Canal being put out of commission, is there a sufficient supply on the Pacific Coast to meet all our requirements?"

"Admiral Stuart replied with a definite:

"There is; yes, sir."

"The Ickes-generated propaganda regarding the necessity of additional pipe lines also seems entirely without foundation in the light of the correspondence between the Admiral and Congressman John M. Coffee which was introduced at the same hearing. Admiral Stuart wrote:

"Replying to your question whether I look upon such a pipe line as a "vital and necessary adjunct to our national defense program so far as the Navy Department is concerned," my answer it, "No." The line in contemplation is apparently a purely private enterprise intended as a distribution line for imported refined petroleum products, probably from Mexica, Venezuela, Colombia, etc."

"Independent operators fear control will mean further reduction in production with the gradual elimination of all independent competition in the industry.

"Consumers are concerned over the possibilities of higher prices and the elimination of jobs within the industry as a result of government interference.

"Our organization opposed state control. The same dangers; higher prices reduced opportunities for labor, elimination of independent competition making for monopolistic practices and political plundering are equally inherent in Federal control.

"These threats again face us.

"With the industry in the best condition in its history, as to supplies, with Naval authorities testifying as to the sufficiency of the supplies of petroleum; with no bottlenecks nor labor disturbances, which have so slackened operations in other enterprises, we can see no necessity for Icke's interference. No false cries of national defense can becloud the issue. There is no shortage of petroleum products—no question of quality or quantity. The industry stands ready to meet any and all emergencies—factual or synthetic. And, it is prepared to do a better job than could ever be accomplished by a bureaucratic staff of inexperienced, incompetent politicians.

"However, rather than meet facts, which they seldom understand, Administration forces are camouflaging their real intentions in taking over the industry by declaring transportation facilities are at fault. If so, let them divert their energies to the solution of the transportation problem.

"Regimentation of the entire oil industry is neither needed nor necessary while they dabble in the field of transportation.

"We are hopeful that Congress will demand a full investigation of this grab.

"When the American people know the truth and are aware of the consequences of this political attempt to set up a dictatorship the industry will be returned to its rightful owners, the operators, the employees, the refiners and the distributors; the people who have made it great—far greater than the combined reserves and production of all the Axis powers.

"While the Administration may manufacture a false fear and hysteria for its safety this bogey has not invaded the industry.

"Our only wish is that we be permitted to continue to conduct our own affairs—that we be allowed to do our own good job for national defense and that we may continue to produce the vital petroleum products without interruption from the bungling, bigoted, grasping and ambitious politicians."

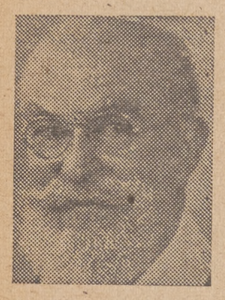
HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

THE NOSE

The nose is an organ of respiration as well as an organ for smelling. It "strains" the air as well as warming it when one inhales in the act of breathing.

Picking the nose with the fingers is bad practice, as it spreads the nostrils. Children should be taught not to pick the nose or put their fingers in it. Let them put a cloth over the finger and rub the inside of the nostril, if necessary; but it is far better to pinch the nose from the outside, when it itches.



Dr. Geo. Starr White

The mucus membrane of the nose is very sensitive and easily abraded. Many chronic sore noses are caused by putting foreign bodies into the nose to clean it.

If people lived more in the open, they would have very little trouble with the erectile, or warming tissue in the nose; but because they live most of the time in heated rooms, or in close air, or crowded streets—in an un-natural manner—the mucus membrane becomes irritated, congested, and inflamed. Thus the inflammatory process known as "catar" is set up.

The child, as well as the adult, should be taught to breathe thru the nose—never thru the mouth. The warming, or erectile tissue, in the nose warms the air as well as taking out dust. On the other hand, if a person breathe thru the mouth, dirt and dust are taken directly into the bronchial tubes, and the air is not properly warmed. Bronchitis, as well as inflamation of the larynx (laryngitis) and vocal cords, is usually the result.

I must warn my readers regarding the promiscuous use of Ephedrin Alkaloid in nose-drops. A little of this substance may do no harm. But the fact that it dilates the pupils of the eyes and depresses the heart, makes it a question as to just how "safe" it is. Just now, it is used in practically every commercial nose-wash, or nose-drops. The pupils of the eyes dilate almost immediately after this substance is used in the nose.

All products made from the Ephedra plants, irritate the bronchial tubes and larynx, as well as the epiglottis. Such products may cause death from strangulation.

Chronic cataral conditions of the nose, leading to troubles of the nasal sinuses, are all too frequent. Many of the worst cases of catar in children, as well as adults, are caused by being in air poluted with tobacco smoke. The smoking of cigarets, or any other form of tobacco, tobacco mixtures, or tobacco substitutes, is very harmful to the mucus membranes.

The inhaling of air that is poluted with tobacco smoke, or cigaret smoke, has almost as bad an effect upon the mucus membranes of the body as actually using the dope.

To help prevent or overcome cataral conditions, be sure to neither eat nor drink anything that has been cooked in, or has stood in, aluminum; or that contains alum.

Some of the worst cases of catar I have ever treated, have been greatly relieved within thirty days after all aluminum cooking utensils were thrown into the dump-heap. Iron or porcelain ware; "stainless steel"; or "cooking-glassware"; make safe cooking utensils.

MAZDAZNAN SCIENCE & FAITH

Synopsis of Breath Lesson Number One given broadcast unto all the world. Irrespective of caste, creed or color, aiming toward fellowship, friendship, a brotherhood that will lead mankind to the fount of truth as revealed by Mazdaznan—the only and straight way.

The subject of BREATH is too serious to be treated superficially. Science, with all its praiseworthy achievements, has as yet been unable to define that which giveth Life, sustains Life and perpetuates Life, and though it may know the proportions of the elements in the air cannot fuse life into a single cell, or in the words of Jesus:

"The wind bloweth where it will and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh and whither it goeth."

And in the words of the Rubaiyat:

"For to the smallest insect nought can they impart The Breath Divine—when it to thence depart."

Mazdaznan Science of Breath is for young and old; man, woman and child. To the child it will make even the most difficult studies mere play; the mature in years will soon find himself in a position to use his talents and make good all his deficiencies; the narrow-minded will turn cosmopolitan; the shallow-minded will become tolerant; the pessimist grows toward optimism and the religious enthusiast tones down, while the materialist returns to first principles; the old and decrepit grow young hale and hearty, and whatever the desire, wish or longing, man realizes that all things are within his reach as to the Prodigal Son was the "Father's House where there is plenty and to spare," yet to reach this House of Endeavor the Prodigal Son had to "arise and go".

Mazdaznan points "the Way unto Truth and Life", but you determine the "arise and go". Mazdaznan cannot persuade you; it dare not influence you or beg of you to "arise and go". Mazdaznan can only invite you "Come, and take of the Flow of Life freely".

JEWS URGED TO BACK ANTI-LINDBERGH RALLY

PHILADELPHIA,— Jews throughout the Philadelphia area were urged by the Philadelphia Council of the American-Jewish Congress to attend the meeting at Convention Hall which is being held as a counter-demonstration to the one the next night at the Arena, where Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh will be the chief speaker.

"As American citizens and as Jews, it is our primary duty to demonstrate our faith in our American way of life', the council's statement said. "Every Jew in the Philadelphia area must therefore turn out Wednesday night and demonstrate to the enemies of democracy . . . that we Americans are a united people, ever ready to defend our liberties and our democracy."

Anti-Lindbergh Rally Issues More Tickets Than Isolation Group

PHILADELPHIA,—Well over 15,000 tickets had been distributed by the Save Freedom Citizens Committee for its rally at 8:'5 o'clock, May 28, in Convention Hall to "counteract" a scheduled address by Charles A. Lindbergh here.

The committee's headquarters, at 1340 Walnut st., predicted that the vast auditorium would be "filled to more than capacity" to hear Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York, new U. S. Director of Civilian Defense, and William C. Bullitt, former Ambassador to France.

Battle on Sidelines

A minor tempest was stirred when Henry W. Wills, secretary of the Philadelphia Board of Trade, mailed 3000 tickets for the night's rally to the board's some 1500 members.

One of the tickets reached Kern Dodge, former Director of Public Safety and member of the America First Committee, who promptly wrote Wills a warning that he was "being duped" by interventionists.

Walsh Joins Lindbergh

As the city waited for the two-day battle of oratory on America's position in the war, U. S. Senator David I. Walsh (D.-Mass.) agreed to speak with Lindbergh at the meeting at 8:30 P. M. May 29, in the Arena, 45th and Market sts.

Walsh, Lindbergh and Kathleen Norris, novelist, will oppose U. S. intervention in the war. Backers of the meeting announced that 9100 tickets had been issued "singly and in small blocs". The Arena seats 9300, but amplifiers will carry the speeches to sidewalk listeners.

British Secret Service Report 1919

(From The Beacon Light)

The following material is a reprint from the Congressional Record of October 11, 1939 on pages 598 to 604. This material evidently came from the private office of Colonel E. M. House, in fact it looks as though the report was made by him to the British government. This document was handed personally to every Senator and some of the Representatives at Washington, D. C. Rep. Thorkelson of Montana had it inserted in the Congressional Record on October 11, 1939 on pages 598 to 604, but it does not appear in the final Record. It developed that this information was put in the Congressional Record following the last world war when this country was debating the entrance of this country into the League of Nations.

In addition to this information we suggest that you use the information contained in the Congressional Record of the 76th Congress, 2nd session, Volume 85, Number 14, pages 758 to 760. This will make you really boil.

For some information on the character of Mr. Col. E. M. House you should read the SATURDAY EVE. POST article written by Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson appearing in the Feb. 11, 1939 issue, entitled "As I Saw it—Collapse". On page 29 she says: "I don't believe it, Doctor Grayson, for if it were true, Colonel House would be a traitor". Doctor Grayson then goes on to tell Mrs. Wilson what he had seen with his own eyes, which makes Colonel House the traitor. (Incidentally, we were able to obtain just a few copies of this number, which we will sell you at 25c per copy postpaid; as the article is copyrighted we are unable to reprint it here. Write to William Kullgren, Atascadero, Calif.)

Then you should read the book which Col. House wrote anonymously, but to which William Jennings Bryan made him admit authorship, during a Presidential Cabinet Meeting, entitled "Phillip Dru, Administrator". This book was withdrawn from circulation and is difficult to obtain. But you should read the book written by Col. Jennings C. Wise, entitled, "Woodrow Wilson Disciple of Revolution". It is a book that will enable you to better understand the program being carried out by President Roosevelt, for it shows clearly that both men have worked to the same pattern, supplied by a hidden group. If the American public had taken this book seriously, Roosevelt could never have been elected to a third term. But our substantial business men are infants when they step outside their own domain. They specialize in their particular line, and think that the politicians can run the country. They do—into the ditch. Blind faith in the powers that be has allowed the hidden control to bring our country to the verge of civil war and bankruptcy. (The price of Col. Wise's book, which you will find in our list, is $3.75; it is a book of about 700 pages, packed with authentic information that should have a wide circulation. We have just received word that a few copies of "The Intimate Papers of Col. House" are available. This is a rather massive work of two volumes, of about 500 pages to each; the published price was $10.00 for the set but we can supply them at $7.50 a set. Wm. Kullgren, Atascadero, Calif). Here we have an encyclopedia of facts pertaining to the wire pulling of the international group. Col. House was a powerful international figure and traveled around laying the foundation for International Jewry's take-over. Their program is the New Deal program; and the next step looks like chaos, unless the producer, the backbone of the country, awakens very soon.

The Report follows:

"British Consulate, New York City,
June 10, 1919.

The Right Hon. David Lloyd George,

Sir: I was highly honoured by your personal letter of May 24th last, and wish to thank you for the cordial expression of approval of my work, which it contained. You were very good enough to require from me a frank and confidential account of the campaign conducted under my direction in this country, together with such suggestions as might further help to lead it speedily to a successful conclusion. As the Campaign had been under way for a considerable time before you were called to direct the destinies of England, I shall review it from its commencement and, emboldened by your sanction, I shall freely make whatever suggestions seem to me good.

Preliminary Considerations

From the moment of my arrival here, it was evident to me that such an Anglo-American alliance as would ultimately result in the peaceful return of the American Colonies to the dominion of the Crown could be brought about only with the consent of a dominant group of the controlling clan. Theoretically, the size of the needed dominant group seemed to be in inverse ratio to the individual power of its members. But in practice it proved cheaper to win the consent of the many as well as of the dominant few, for it made the latter less exigent.

Outline of Plan

Accordingly I analyzed (Memorandum, dated July 1, 1916, submitted to Sir William Tyrrell, Appendix 1) the American mentality on which hostility to England depended, and found it compared chiefly of covetous pride, fear and traditional ignorance. I then suggested the formation here under Sir Gilbert Parker of propaganda bureaus to modify the prevailing ignorance, and requested power to apply adequate social and financial pressure in order to satisfy native American ambition and to cater to the weaknesses which can feed it.

Standard Method Adopted

It was early apparent that, in spite of the great diversity of the racial types which are labeled American, a remarkable uniformity in mental mould existed among them. Hence, it was comparatively easy to standardize a method to convert quickly and cheaply an ordinarily hostile American into a colonist amenable to His Majesty's pleasure. The method (Appendix 2) applied to Americans in England differed in no essential from that (Appendix 3) applied to them here. The resistance of highly placed Americans to this method did not detectably exceed the resistance of the lowly.

Results of Standard Method

Tables of cost and efficiency (Appendix 4-6) which I submitted to the Foreign offices on December 1, 1916, showed then that the average duration of the resistance of Americans to anglicisation was in England 37 days, in America 104 days; that the average percentage of anglicisation obtained, measured by the Standard Foreign Office unit, was 53.28; and that the percentage of failure was 9.31. The cost per converted American was $31.02, but this figure does not represent actual outlay, as it includes titles and court presentations at market price, as well as extravagant sums charged against us by other departments whose activities supplemented ours.

Improved Methods and Results

The generous commendations of His Majesty's Government was an incentive to me to attempt to perfect the method. For this purpose I introduced modifications of the standard plan (a) for intensive application (Appendices 7-8), (b) for extensive application (Appendices 9-10), together with some slight variations (Appendices 11-13) respectively devised to suit the special requirements of diverse religious creeds. The report I had the honor to submit to you, dated December 1, 1918, (Appendix 14) showed that the average anglicisation time for Americans in England had been reduced to 14 days; in America to 29 days, 3 hours, 16 minutes; that the percentage of anglicisation had risen to 101; that the percentage of failure had fallen to 3.79 and that the cost had been decreased to $.53 per colonist. These results were rendered possible not by our efforts alone; but also by the entry of this country into the war which enabled us to "Americanize" our campaign and to brand as traitors to the United States those who were disaffected towards us.

"Americanization"

Since 1776, Anglo-Americans have wisely refused to emphasize their origin by a hyphen. In consequence our people were able quietly to usurp the designation American, and by implication to impugn the loyalty to the United States of the Irish, German and other riff raff here. Entry into war officially converted historical fear of England into practical friendship, overturning the foundation of established patriotic belief. Thence arose in the mind of the American a doubt which grew from uncertainty to anxiety concerning the staunchness of the structure of the nation. That anxiety was a secret thing which, through our German-American and Irish-American plots—discovered and disclosed by our American Secret Service and Military Intelligence Department with carefully calculated timeliness—we excited first to fear and then to panic, till the country openly broke and ran to the sanctuary of patriotism we had prepared. There the fugitive American made public profession of faith in the new patriotism and sought by deeds to demonstrate his devotion. None considered himself safe unless bedecked with the flags, buttons, shields and feathers which we sold to professing Patriots to ward off suspicion from them. None dared to eat before we, their Allies, had had our fill. Members of the Roosevelt, Lamont and other First Families hastened to volunteer for active service under our flag. We encouraged the common people to spy upon and to denounce their neighbors; and an orgy of persecution followed which our secret commission investigated (White Paper on American Atrocities—Appendix 15.) Some idea of the extent of this persecutory mania may be gathered from the Commission's conclusions that had the war continued, the rank and file of the Army soon would have been all incarcerated in military prisons, and the officers thereafter would have sought to satisfy their frenzy by the court martialing of one another.

With the active co-operation of the Administration, our "American" Defense Societies, Security Leagues, Protective Associations and other extra legal bodies enabled us to terrorize, sterilize and standardize—in a word to Americanize—the minds of the people and their legislators, so that their conduct and even their thoughts conformed scrupulously to the common pattern we had laid down for them. The average of a series of Foreign Office and Secret Service tests made by Colonel Thwaites, Captain Pakenham, Captain Grant Squires and Sir Arthur Willet, among all classes, under conditions devised to eliminate possible sources of error, showed that the American mind, by these methods had been inoculated with 71.6 out of a possible 100 F. O. Standard Units.

Our thanks are due to Messrs, Taft and Polk, who elaborated with us our German-Irish plot programmed. To Mr. Baker and the innumerable library committees who banned from the camps the Anti-British books on our index expurgations. To Mr. Gregoty, who lent punitive force to our wishes regarding spoken and written speeches. And Messrs. Pierpont Morgan, Rockefeller, Cleveland Dodge, Wanamaker, Hamilin Childs, Du Pont, Ryan, Insull, Doheny and others of our friends who financed our "Americanization" campaign. I would especially call attention to the beneficence of Messrs. Insull and Doheny, who were the generous supporters of the diversion, devised by Messrs. Taft and O'Connor—entitled, "Ireland Stabbed England in the back". These contributors doubtless will be, or have been, appropriately rewarded by His Majesty's Government.

The practical value to the Empire of these activities has already been demonstrated to you both during the war and in the making of peace. Gratifying features of this part of the campaign were that the lawless elements in the Administration, in the bureaucracy, and in the populace bred fear and disgust of the existing United States Government among the law abiding; and led thoughtful inhabitants to realize, more clearly than we could teach them, that the blessings of elementary justice are to be found only under our Flag. I would suggest for future consideration that a closed season for "Frightfulness" be established here, lest lynching, Praegerizing and Bisbee Drives become vulgar. A system of licenses would increase the exclusiveness of the sport and would be moreover a valuable source of revenue.

Labor Racket

$1 Offense Costly

To try a $1 offense Friday, June 13, in municipal court will cost the county $36 a day in jury fees, the time of the judge and clerks and possibly a court reporter. Not long ago C. Leon de Aryan, publisher of a weekly newspaper, made a citizen's arrest of Mrs. Nellie Hammond, 32, of 4411 Cherokee st., allegedly for parking overtime near the Montgomery Ward & Co. department store being picketed by A. F. L. members.

de Aryan charged many of the pickets parked their cars by the store all day to deprive customers of places. Jurors in municipal court criminal cases get $3 each a day and, as Mrs. Hammond has pleaded not guilty and asked for a jury trial, it will cost $36 daily to try the parking case. Mrs. Hammond placed $1 bail for her release.
